

DONALD MACDONALD (INDIVIDUAL)

WRITTEN SUBMISSION

I recently had the misfortune of being 1 day late on 01/10/13. My license expired on 30/09. Being a bank holiday that day I went back to the office on 01/10 to be informed that I would have to pay an extra fee of near £1000.

Despite letters to my councillors, MSP, leader of Glasgow City council and the Housing minister they have all come back to me with the same guff, basically saying tough you had 6 months to apply.

To levy such an excess charge is absolutely hideous, I feel as a honest person of society, paying my taxes on time and in this current economic climate asking anyone to pay this amount is totally unfair and I have been badly let down by my council and system and I feel that this should be reviewed for inclusion for debate and change made to the legislation and each case reviewed on a case to case basis depending on the circumstances.
