CENSUS (AMENDMENT) (SCOTLAND) BILL

SUBMISSION FROM ANONYMOUS

I have not got a GRC, despite starting my transition in 2008 and have fully medically transitioned. However, I have been accepted as a man in all circumstances by every Government Department and by my employers and it would be completely unacceptable that I have to tick 'female' on the census just because I don't have a GRC.

I have no problem if the census data wants to find out how many of the population are identifying as non binary.

Having a third option of "other" is acceptable.

I would answer a Voluntary question that asks if I identify as a Transman.
